Dear supervisors,

As a member of the County Climate Emergency Council and a supporter of Reach Codes, I encourage you to vote to keep the concept of electric buildings alive.

It is understood that changes need to be made due to the Berkeley decision; however there are jurisdictions in the State doing workarounds to continue to encourage electric building construction.

I recommend that in voting on this you direct staff to study the ongoing efforts of other jurisdictions and report back to your Board with options that are being implemented to keep the idea of electric buildings alive.

Thank you,

Phil White
