Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors -
Congratulations on double speak.

Where "clarifying " actually mean's capitulation to the money of oil & gas. Your vote to allow this hypocrisy will mark you on the wrong side of history and against those who worked for years on a general plan update that put in health and safety requirements for people and the planet.

Do you remember the giant Japanese movie monster Godzilla? Created by nuclear pollution there was only one way to save us from the gigantic lizard.

Let's call climate change Godzilla.

Just when we learn that transition from fossil fuels and health safety zones can save us , you wrong way supervisors yank the solutions out of the general plan because I guess you were elected with oil money and this is what you must do.

Shame on Parvin, Gorrell and Long if you put the oil industry above a child's health.

Let me "clarify" what you have: moral failure.

I'm under no illusion that my email will sway the power of money.

But if just one of you looks deeply into your heart you can emerge today as a better person.

I will drive to the meeting in my low cost electric car I bought in memory of Carmen Ramirez. Perhaps you can be as beloved and respected as she is but time is running out on you as well.

John Brooks
