DISCUSSION:

Auditor-Controller staff, as required by Government Code Sections 66000, 66001, and 66006, compiled information received from the various departments administering developer fees. Exhibit 1 includes a brief summary of the purpose, authorization, and approval of each agency's developer fees. Exhibit 1 and Exhibit 2 reflect developer funds held for five (5) years or more. Exhibit 3 includes a summary of the qualifying accounts, including the beginning and ending balance, the fee, interest, other income and transfers, and the amount of expenditure and refunds made during the fiscal year for each separate account or fund containing fees of this nature for fiscal year 2023-24. Exhibit 4 discusses Traffic Impact Mitigation Fee Updates, identifying specific project needs, and identifying additional funding sources needed to complete the projects.

Government Code Section 66006(b) requires the Board of Supervisors to review information annually at a regularly scheduled meeting, not less than 15 days after availability, regarding separate accounts or funds containing developer fees for public facilities. This information was first presented to your Board on October 8th, and we have returned today to complete the annual review process and ask that you make the necessary findings as described below.

Government Code Section 66006(b) applies to any fee imposed to provide for an improvement to be constructed to serve a development project, or which is a fee for public improvements that is imposed by the local agency as a condition of approving the development project. Fees in Government Code Section 66477 (Quimby Act, park and recreational fees) are excluded from the definition of Section 66000(b). However, the Quimby Act fees have similar requirements for developing new or rehabilitating existing neighborhood or community park or recreational facilities to serve the related subdivision. Government Code Section 66477(a)(6) also requires commitment of these funds within five (5) years after collection of the fees or after issuance of 50 percent of building permits, whichever occurs later. In the interest of providing full disclosure to the public, the Quimby Act fees are voluntarily included in this general developer fee Board letter.

Government Code Section 66001(d) and Government Code Section 66001(e) list requirements for fees unexpended or uncommitted after five years. In addition, Government Code Section 66001(d)(1)(C) and (D), and 66001(e) require identification of the sources and amounts needed to complete financing on incomplete projects and to designate the approximate dates for receipt of funding for deposit into the appropriate accounts, and the approximate date of construction commencement where funding is sufficient.

As required by Government Code Section 66001(d) for the annual fiscal year report on developer fees as of June 30, 2024, your Board must make findings with respect to any of these 66001(a) fees which remain unexpended or uncommitted after five years from the date deposited. Findings will be required for those fees on deposit which were collected between January 1, 1989, and June 30, 2019. Your Board will also be required to make findings to identify the purpose to which the fee is to be put and to demonstrate a reasonable relationship between the fee and the purpose for which it was charged.

Findings information is summarized on Exhibit 1. As noted on Exhibit 1, each of the unexpended funds held five years or more is committed to a project that is a suitable purpose for the use of the developer fee, and the sources and amounts to complete financing are identified.

As required by Government Code Section 66001(e), if a need for the project cannot be demonstrated pursuant to Government Code Section 66001(d), or, if within 180 days of receipt of sufficient funding, the entity does not provide an approximate date by which construction will be commenced, your Board would be required to direct a refund to the then current recorded owner or owners of lots or units of the development project or projects on a prorated basis of the unexpended or uncommitted portion of the fee and any interest accrued thereon (except where administrative costs of refunding exceed the amount to be refunded).

The various departments receiving development fees will continue to maintain records to comply with these Government Code requirements.

This Board letter has been reviewed by the County Executive Office and by County Counsel. Any questions may be referred to the Auditor-Controller's Office at 805-654-3892.

Sincerely,

JEFFERY S. BURGH
Auditor-Controller
