Hi,

I know this is late, but wanted to try since I just head about this and will be working tomorrow.

I've been a poll worker California and a Ventura voter and have faith in Ventura's elections. Since I live near the government center, I proudly drop off my ballot in a secure box and feel assured that the county is taking counting votes seriously. Please don't let people who are just angry vs. angry about actual problems sidetrack other important issues for the county to address.
