

Thousand Oaks Remembers:

Finding Strength in our Stories

www.thousandoaksremembers.com

Home Connect Read Listen View Resources Calendar

Thousand Oaks Remembers

#TOremembers
A Storytelling Project

Listening Groups

Everyone connected with the Thousand Oaks community experienced both the shooting and fires in a unique way and has a story to tell. In sharing our stories and hearing the stories of our friends and neighbors we may find a healing space, some common ground, a fresh perspective, or at its root a connection to our shared humanity.

There is power in giving voice to our own experiences, and power in sitting across from others as they share their experiences. When stories are shared we see one another with new depth, appreciation, and compassion. Perhaps you are connected to a particular group that could benefit from this listening experience. Groups may include: office staff, professional groups, friends and family members, church or community groups, neighborhoods, school communities, or more.

The Acom Newspaper captures a woman taking a moment to remember the victims of the Borderline Tragedy.

Submit a Story

Everyone connected to Thousand Oaks holds a story within them of how they were impacted, what they experienced, or how they felt on the days and weeks surrounding the shooting and the fires. There is space provided here for you to share any of your thoughts or experience from that time.

Please email any photos to Thousand Oaks Remembers at thousandoaksremembers@gmail.com and fill out the form below.

Name *

First Name

Last Name

Email *

Story Title *

Your Story *

Terms and Conditions *

Release Form for Thousand Oaks Remembers

By submitting this story, I grant permission to Thousand Oaks Remembers to archive, publish, print, or re-print my written story at any time at their discretion in any format or media, written or electronic. I, the author, acknowledge that submission of material is not a guarantee the work will be published.

I am also giving my consent for this work to be shared and posted in print or online.
If any of your work is published you can choose to remain anonymous by checking the second box below.

If you would like to release your copyrights in order that your work could be utilized by Thousand Oaks Remembers at their discretion, please check the third box.

If submission is provided by someone who is under 18 years of age, check the fourth box.

As the parent/guardian of the author, I give permission to Thousand Oaks Remembers to archive, publish, or print my child's written story of which I am the parent/guardian any time at their discretion in any format or media, written or electronic. The parent/guardian of the author acknowledges that submission of material is not a guarantee the work will be published.

Writing Posts:

To be placed around the community at a variety of locations including:

Thousand Oaks Library
Cal Lutheran

CSU-Channel Islands

Five07 Coffee Bar and Eatery

Borderline Bar and Grill

NOV. 8

T.O. Remembers: Stories from November 2018

T.O. REMEMBERS - STORIES FROM NOVEMBER 2018

BUY TICKETS

Nov. 08, 2019 | 7:00 PM | Scherr Forum Theatre | Tickets: $15.00

This storytelling event will mark the one-year anniversary of the tragedies from November 2018 including the shooting at Borderline Bar and Grill as well as the Woolsey and Hill fires. People will come together to hear stories told from various perspectives within the Thousand Oaks community to remember and reflect. The evening will also include musical and dance performances from local artists.

PERFORMANCE DATES AND TIMES:

Nov. 08, 2019 at 7:00 PM

Thousand Oaks Remembers:

Finding Strength in our Stories

A community storytelling project in response to the shooting at Borderline Bar and Grill and the Woolsey and Hill fires that took place in November 2018.
#TORemembers

