Dear Ventura County Supervisors,

Please make sure new environmental impact statements will be written and considered before new wells are dug. As a word to the oil companies, please consider that your business take part in building recreational trails to create usable recreational land to offset the natural beauty that will be destroyed. If the roads you use for drilling have public access recreational trails leading off of it that were built with the money made by the wells, then it will curb pushback from environmentalists.

Regards,
