The healthy future of Ventura County is at stake today. Oil and gas companies should be held to modern safety standards that protect us and the environment. We should stop expanding oil operations under antiquated Conditional Use Permits handed out years ago.

With the climate crisis and the pollution already in our area, we must not accept that any person or corporation has the right to expand in ways that pollute our land, air, or water.

New drilling and expanded extraction should require a new permit and full compliance with current health, safety, and environmental standards. Thank you for doing what you can to make that happen today and in the future.

Sincerely,

Robert Pratt
